

Special Issue on Social Justice and Inclusive Development
Call for Papers

Social Justice and Inclusive Development examines the principles, policies, and practices aimed at promoting equity, human rights, social inclusion, and sustainable development for all members of society. It focuses on addressing disparities related to income, education, health, gender, ethnicity, disability, and access to opportunities while fostering participation and empowerment among marginalized and vulnerable populations. Drawing on insights from sociology, economics, political science, public policy, and development studies, this field explores strategies for reducing inequality, strengthening social cohesion, and advancing inclusive growth. Research in social justice and inclusive development contributes to the creation of fairer societies by supporting evidence-based policies and initiatives that enhance well-being, dignity, and equal opportunities across diverse communities.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Social Justice and Inclusive Development. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Social equity and inclusion
- Poverty reduction strategies
- Human rights studies
- Gender equality and empowerment
- Community development
- Inclusive economic development
- Social policy and welfare
- Education equity and access
- Public health and social justice
- Diversity and multiculturalism
- Disability inclusion studies
- Sustainable development and equity
- Labor rights and decent work
- Social protection systems
- Civic participation and empowerment
- Governance and inclusive institutions

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Social Justice and Inclusive Development” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue Timetable:

Submission Deadline	September 22nd, 2026
Publication Date	November 2026

Guest Editor:

Dr. Mahesh Ramaswamy
Kuvempu University, India

For further questions or inquiries, please contact Editorial Assistant at aasoci@scirp.org.