

Special Issue on Operations Research and Management Science
Call for Papers

Operations Research and Management Science is an interdisciplinary field that applies mathematical, statistical and computational methods to support decision-making and improve organizational performance. It encompasses optimization, simulation, forecasting, decision analysis, scheduling, logistics and resource allocation. The field addresses complex problems in business, industry, healthcare, transportation and public services, aiming to enhance efficiency, reduce costs, manage uncertainty and develop effective strategies for sustainable and evidence-based decision-making.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Operations Research and Management Science. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Mathematical Modelling and Simulation
- Optimization and Mathematical Programming
- Decision Analysis and Decision Science
- Supply Chain and Logistics Management
- Inventory Theory, Revenue Management and Dynamic Pricing
- Production Planning and Scheduling
- Simulation and System Dynamics
- Queuing Theory and Stochastic Process Analytics
- Forecasting and Predictive Analytics
- Queuing Theory and Service Systems
- Game Theory, Auction Design and Competitive Strategy
- Project Management and Resource Allocation
- Healthcare Operations and Management
- Financial Engineering and Operations Research
- Data-Driven and Intelligent Operations Management

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Operations Research and Management Science” should be chosen during your submission.

According to the following timetable:

Submission Deadline	November 9th, 2026
Publication Date	January 2027
