

Special Issue on
AI Regulation, Tax Policy, and Legal Governance
Call for Papers

AI Regulation, Tax Policy, and Legal Governance examines the evolving legal and policy challenges arising from the rapid development and adoption of artificial intelligence. It explores regulatory frameworks, taxation of AI-driven economic activities, algorithmic accountability, data governance, liability, intellectual property, privacy, and compliance mechanisms. The topic also considers how governments and legal institutions can balance technological innovation with fairness, transparency, public interests, and sustainable economic development, providing insights into emerging approaches to AI governance and tax policy in an increasingly digital economy.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring AI Regulation, Tax Policy, and Legal Governance. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- AI regulation
- Tax policy
- Legal governance
- Algorithmic accountability
- Data governance
- Digital taxation
- AI liability
- Privacy protection
- Intellectual property
- Regulatory compliance
- AI ethics
- Competition regulation
