Special Issue on Humanities, Social Sciences & Education

Call for Papers

Humanities, Social Sciences and Education encompass a broad range of academic disciplines that explore human society, culture, behavior, and the underlying mechanisms of education. Humanities include subjects like literature, history, art, and philosophy, focusing on human thought, culture, and creativity. Social Sciences study the structure and development of human society, including psychology, sociology, economics, and political science. Education examines teaching methods, learning processes, and the systematic practice of educating. Together, these fields contribute to a comprehensive understanding of human experience and societal progress.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Humanities, Social Sciences & Education. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:
