Special Issue on Curriculum and Teaching

Call for Papers

Curriculum and Teaching studies the design, implementation and evaluation of educational programs and instructional practices. It examines how curriculum content is structured, delivered and adapted to meet learners' needs across diverse contexts. The field integrates pedagogy, assessment and learning theories to improve teaching effectiveness, student engagement and learning outcomes, while also considering cultural, social, and technological influences on education.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Curriculum and Teaching. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Curriculum theory and practice
- Instructional strategies and pedagogy
- Innovation in learning and teaching
- Curriculum design and development
- Assessment and evaluation
- Multicultural and inclusive education
