

Special Issue on Pharmacology Research on Chinese medicine Call for Papers

Pharmacology Research on Chinese Medicine is an interdisciplinary academic field that investigates the pharmacological properties, mechanisms of action, efficacy, and safety of traditional Chinese medicines and their active compounds. It integrates pharmacology, molecular biology, chemistry and clinical medicine to study herbal medicines, natural products and traditional formulations. The field aims to provide scientific evidence for the therapeutic applications of Chinese medicine and support its modernization, standardization and integration into contemporary healthcare practices.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Pharmacology Research on Chinese medicine. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Phytochemistry and Bioactive Compound Identification
- Pharmacodynamics of Chinese Medicines
- Pharmacokinetics and Drug Metabolism
- Molecular Mechanisms and Systems Pharmacology
- Toxicology and Safety Evaluation
- Standardization and Quality Control
- Chinese Herbal Formula Research
- Clinical Pharmacology and Evidence-Based Chinese Medicine
- Natural Product Drug Discovery
- Integrative Medicine and Translational Research
- Network Pharmacology
- Methodology and Evaluation Systems

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.
