Special Issue on
Diabetes Treatment and Clinical Management

Call for Papers

Diabetes Treatment and Clinical Management involves the systematic regulation of blood glucose levels and the comprehensive care of patients to prevent or delay complications. It combines pharmacological approaches, including insulin and oral hypoglycemic agents, with lifestyle modifications such as diet, exercise, and weight management. Clinical care includes continuous monitoring of glycemic status, individualized treatment planning, and routine screening for complications affecting the cardiovascular system, kidneys, nerves, and eyes. Advances in medical technology, patient-centered care, and evidence-based guidelines have significantly improved outcomes and quality of life for individuals living with diabetes.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Diabetes Treatment and Clinical Management. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Continuous glucose monitoring (CGM)
- Diabetic cardiovascular complication management
- Diabetic nephropathy treatment
- Diabetic neuropathy care
- Diabetic retinopathy management
- Emerging therapies and precision medicine
- Exercise and physical activity programs
- Gestational diabetes care
- Glycemic monitoring and control
- Injectable non-insulin therapies
- Insulin therapy and delivery systems
- Lifestyle and behavioral interventions
- Medical nutrition therapy
- Oral antidiabetic medications
- Type 1 diabetes management
- Type 2 diabetes management

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - *Diabetes Treatment and Clinical Management” should be selected during your submission.
