

Special Issue on Adolescent Problems and Education

Call for Papers

Adolescence is one of the fastest stages of human development. It is a period of life with specific health and developmental needs and rights. To grow and develop in good health, adolescents need age-appropriate comprehensive sexuality education and opportunities to develop life skills. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of Adolescent Problems and Education.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Adolescent Problems and Education. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Disturbances and disorders of adolescence
- Violent behavior in adolescents
- Adolescent drug abuse
- Adolescent legal education
- Adolescent moral education
- Adolescent psychology and problems
- Adolescent internet addiction
- Adolescent learning and education

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Adolescent Problems and Education” should be selected during your submission.
