

Special Issue on Social Welfare and Management

Call for Papers

Social welfare is a type of support intended to ensure that members of a society can meet basic human needs. The welfare policies usually are targeted to specific population groups, such as families in substandard housing, children in poverty, the physically disabled, minorities historically disadvantaged or mistreated, victims of particular diseases. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of Social Welfare and Management.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Social Welfare and Management. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Anti-poverty programs
- Disability allowance
- Housing benefit
- Income support
- Rent rebates
- Social assistance programs
- Social insurance
- Social welfare policies
- State pension
- Unemployment insurance
- Welfare expenditure

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Social Welfare and Management” should be selected during your submission.
