

Special Issue on Human Rights and Social Justice

Call for Papers

Social justice is the fairness in wealth, opportunities, basic needs, and more. Social justice and human rights based values emphasize the dignity and worth of every person, and respect for self-determination. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of Human Rights and Social Justice.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Human Rights and Social Justice. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Citizenship
- Democracy
- Discrimination
- Economic, social, and cultural rights
- Fairness
- Feminist liberation
- Gender equality
- Humanitarian aid
- Justice, peace and integrity
- Poverty and inequality
- Racial equality
- Social justice movements

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Human Rights and Social Justice” should be selected during your submission.
