

Special Issue on
Urban Economics and Sustainable Management
Call for Papers

Urban Economics and Sustainable Management is an interdisciplinary academic field that examines the economic, social and environmental challenges of urban development and management. It explores topics such as urban growth, smart cities, sustainable planning, resource allocation, public policy, infrastructure management and environmental sustainability. By integrating economics, management and urban studies, the field aims to promote efficient, resilient and inclusive cities while addressing challenges related to population growth, climate change and technological transformation.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Urban Economics and Sustainable Management. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Urban economic development and growth
- Smart cities and digital urban management
- Sustainable urban planning and development
- Urban governance and public policy
- Agglomeration economies & urban growth
- Urban infrastructure and resource management
- Environmental economics and urban sustainability
- Green infrastructure and urban ecosystem services
- Urban transportation economics and mobility
- Real estate economics and urban land management
- Circular urban economies and waste management,
- Urban innovation and entrepreneurship
- Urban labor markets and workforce dynamics
- Urban resilience and inclusive development
- Local public finance
- Economics of urban social issues

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – *Urban Economics and Sustainable Management” should be chosen during your submission.

According to the following timetable:

Submission Deadline	October 29th, 2026
Publication Date	December 2026

For publishing inquiries, please feel free to contact the Editorial Assistant at submission.entrance1@scirp.org

JSSM Editorial Office