

Special Issue on Socioeconomics

Call for Papers

Socioeconomics, also known as social economics, is a branch of economics that focuses on the relationship between social behavior and economics, and it studies how economic activity affects and is shaped by social processes.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Socioeconomics. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Socioeconomic status
- Economic change
- Market manipulation
- Socioeconomic development
- Industrial revolution
- Political economy
- Social class
- Income inequality

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Socioeconomics” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue Timetable:

Submission Deadline	September 28th, 2017
