

Special Issue on International Trade and Global Economics
Call for Papers

International Trade and Global Economics examines the exchange of goods, services, capital and resources across countries and their impact on global economic development. It covers trade policies, globalization, international markets, economic integration, trade agreements, exchange rates, foreign investment and global supply chains. The topic also explores the economic effects of trade liberalization, protectionism, international economic cooperation, and global economic shocks on countries, industries and businesses.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on International Trade and Global Economics. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- International Trade Theory and Policy
- Globalization and Economic Integration
- International Economics and Trade Agreements
- Exchange Rates and International Finance
- International Monetary Economics and Finance
- International Marketing and Emerging Markets
- Trade Liberalization and Protectionism
- International Economic Development
- International Trade and Economic Growth
- Global Economic Governance and Cooperation
- Macroeconomics of the Global Economy
- Political Economy of Trade
- Trade and Labor Markets
- Global Supply Chains and Trade Networks
- Digital Trade and Global E-commerce
- Foreign Direct Investment and Multinational Enterprises

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – *International Trade and Global Economics” should be chosen during your submission.

According to the following timetable:

Submission Deadline	December 15th, 2026
Publication Date	February 2027

For publishing inquiries, please feel free to contact the Editorial Assistant at submission.entrance1@scirp.org

ME Editorial Office