

Special Issue on
Architecture, Design, and Built Environment
Call for Papers

Architecture, Design, and Built Environment explores the planning, design, construction, and management of buildings, public spaces, and urban environments, with emphasis on their functional, aesthetic, environmental, technological, and social dimensions. The topic includes architectural design, urban planning, landscape architecture, interior design, sustainable buildings, building performance, smart cities, construction technologies, heritage conservation, adaptive reuse, and human-centered design. It also welcomes research on energy efficiency, climate-responsive architecture, resilient communities, innovative materials, digital design methods, accessibility, and strategies for creating healthy, inclusive, and sustainable built environments.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Architecture, Design, and Built Environment. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Architectural design
- Urban planning
- Landscape architecture
- Interior design
- Sustainable architecture
- Building technology
- Urban design
- Environmental design
- Building performance
- Smart buildings
- Construction management
- Heritage conservation
- Adaptive reuse
- Housing design
- Public space design
- Resilient urban development

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Architecture, Design, and Built Environment” should be selected during your submission.
