
Special Issue on Female Pelvic Medicine and Reconstructive Surgery

Call for Papers

The pelvic region is the headquarters for reproductive organs and the end of the line for the digestive tract, which includes the bony pelvis, the pelvic cavity (the space enclosed by the bony pelvis), the pelvic floor, below the pelvic cavity, and the perineum, below the pelvic floor. This special issue “Female Pelvic Medicine and Reconstructive Surgery” focuses on the surgical and non-surgical treatment of pelvic floor disorders, which include pelvic organ prolapse, incontinence, pelvic pain and so on.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Female Pelvic Medicine and Reconstructive Surgery. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Hip dislocation
- Pelvic floor disorders
- Pelvic floor surgery
- Pelvic organ prolapse
- Pelvic pain
- Sacrocolpopexy
- Urinary incontinence
- Voiding dysfunction

Authors should read over the journal’s For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal’s Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Female Pelvic Medicine and Reconstructive Surgery” should be selected during your submission.
