

Special Issue on Prenatal Care

Call for Papers

Prenatal care is the health care that provides regular check-ups and prenatal testing to prevent potential health problems throughout the course of the pregnancy. It is medical attention given to the mother and her baby, which also involves the mother's caring for herself by following health care provider's advice, having good nutrition, exercising sensibly, getting enough rest, and avoiding things that could harm her or her baby.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Prenatal Care. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Prenatal testing
- Ultrasound
- Chorionic villus sampling
- Physical exam
- Lab tests
- Screening tests for fetal abnormalities

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the "Special Issue" under your manuscript title. The research field "Special Issue - Prenatal Care" should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue Timetable:

Submission Deadline	November 30th, 2016
Publication Date	January 2017

Guest Editor:

For further questions or inquiries, please contact Editorial Assistant at ojog@scirp.org.