Special Issue on
Gynecologic Oncology & Women's Health
Call for Papers

Gynecologic Oncology & Women's Health is a medical and research field focused on cancers of the female reproductive system and their impact on women's overall health. It studies prevention, diagnosis, treatment and survivorship of gynecologic cancers, while integrating reproductive health, hormonal factors, quality of life and patient-centered care to improve clinical outcomes and long-term well-being for women across the lifespan.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Gynecologic Oncology & Women's Health. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Cervical cancer
- Ovarian cancer
- Endometrial cancer
- Vulvar and vaginal cancer
- Uterine cancer
- Cancer screening, prevention and early detection
- Molecular pathogenesis and biomarker discovery
- Surgical gynecologic oncology
- Minimally invasive and robotic surgery
- Medical oncology and chemotherapy in gynecology
- Radiation oncology
- Immunotherapy and novel therapeutics
- Integrative and complementary therapies
- Reproductive health and fertility preservation
- Hormonal and endocrine factors
- Epidemiology of gynecologic cancers
- Precision medicine in gynecologic oncology
