

Special Issue on Conflict Management and Peace Science

Call for Papers

International conflict is an act of suppressing, hurting or destroying each other in order to fight for rare rights, status and resources among actors in the international community. International conflict includes three stages: general conflict, international crisis and international war. The goal of this special issue is to provide a platform for scientists and academicians all over the world to promote, share, and discuss various new issues and developments in the area of Conflict Management and Peace Science.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Conflict Management and Peace Science. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- International conflict and cooperation
- Effect of international trade on political interactions
- International mediation
- Approaches to conflict and cooperation
- Peace analysis and conflict management
- Conflict, conflict resolution and peace-building
- Foreign policy decision making
- Diplomacy and conflict management
- Democracy and world politics conflict
- International war

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - Conflict Management and Peace Science” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue Timetable:

Submission Deadline	February 25th, 2021
Publication Date	April 2021

Guest Editor:

For further questions or inquiries, please contact Editorial Assistant at

Scientific Research
Open Access

Open Journal of Political Science

ISSN Online: 2164-0513

ojps@scirp.org.