

Special Issue on Political Science and Society

Call for Papers

Political Science and Society explores the relationships between political institutions, governance, social structures, and collective behavior. The field examines political theory, democratic systems, public policy, political participation, elections, political parties, international relations, civil society, social movements, and state-society relations. It also considers how political processes and institutions influence social development, public opinion, citizenship, social justice, inequality, and human rights. By integrating perspectives from political science, sociology, economics, public administration, and related social sciences, this field contributes to a deeper understanding of political change, governance, social transformation, and the interactions between states and societies.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on exploring Political Science and Society. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Political theory
- Political institutions
- Comparative politics
- International relations
- Public policy
- Political behavior
- Political participation
- Electoral politics
- Political parties
- Governance
- Public administration
- Political communication
- Civil society
- Social movements
- Political economy
- Human rights

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly specify the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title. The research field “Special Issue - *Political Science and Society” should be selected during your submission.

Special Issue Timetable:

Submission Deadline	December 18th, 2026
Publication Date	February 2027

Guest Editor:

For further questions or inquiries, please contact Editorial Assistant at E-mail: papersubmissionmcy@gmail.com

OJPS Editorial Office
ojps@scirp.org