

Special Issue on Emotion, Behavior and Psychological Study

Call for Papers

Emotion, Behavior and Psychological Study examines how emotions influence human behavior, cognition and social interactions. It explores emotional processes, behavioral patterns, and underlying psychological mechanisms across different contexts. The field integrates theories and methods from psychology to understand how individuals perceive, respond and regulate emotions, aiming to improve mental health, interpersonal relationships and overall well-being.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Emotion, Behavior and Psychological Study. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:
