

Special Issue on
Clinical Psychology and Behavioral Health
Call for Papers

Clinical Psychology and Behavioral Health studies the assessment, treatment and prevention of mental, emotional and behavioral disorders. It examines psychological functioning, behavior patterns and factors that influence mental well-being across the lifespan. The field integrates clinical practice, behavioral science and evidence-based interventions to improve mental health, promote healthy behaviors and enhance overall quality of life.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Clinical Psychology and Behavioral Health. Potential topics include, but are not limited to:

- Clinical neuropsychology
- Behavioral medicine and health psychology
- Psychological assessment and diagnosis
- Psychological intervention and therapy
- Cognitive behavioral therapy
- Psychodynamic therapy
- Couples and family therapy
- Psychotherapy and counseling
- Trauma, PTSD and resilience
- Stress-related disorders
- Depression management
- Mood and anxiety disorders
- Psychological distress
- Personality disorders
- Mental and emotional health
- Positive psychology and well-being interventions
- Health behavior and lifestyle change
- Substance abuse and addiction psychology
- Pain management
- Rehabilitation psychology
- Child and adolescent psychology

Authors should read over the journal's For Authors carefully before submission. Prospective authors should submit an electronic copy of their complete manuscript through the journal's Paper Submission System.

Please kindly notice that the “Special Issue” under your manuscript title is supposed to be specified and the research field “Special Issue – Clinical Psychology and Behavioral Health” should be chosen during your submission.

According to the following timetable:

Submission Deadline	August 12th, 2026
Publication Date	October 2026

For publishing inquiries, please feel free to contact the Editorial Assistant at submission.entrance1@scirp.org

PSYCH Editorial Office