

Special Issue on Economics, Finance and Innovation

Call for Papers

Economics, Finance and Innovation studies how economic systems, financial markets and technological or organizational innovations interact to drive growth and competitiveness. It examines investment, entrepreneurship, financial strategies and innovation policies that influence productivity and economic development. The field integrates economic analysis, financial management and innovation studies to understand how new ideas, technologies, and financial mechanisms shape industries, markets and global economies.

In this special issue, we intend to invite front-line researchers and authors to submit original research and review articles on Economics, Finance and Innovation. Potential topics include, but are not limited to
